Former NFL Player and VH1 Celebrity Kick Off Flag Football Tournament to Benefit Local Athletes

Miami, FL, July 08, 2009 – Former NFL Linebacker Lavar Arrington teams up with reality-TV star and ACC players for a fun-filled day to benefit local athletes. Team Impact Group, Inc., and Whiteboy Enterprises, Inc. invite all to the inaugural Flag Football and Exposure Tournament on Saturday, July 11, 2009, 8:00 am, at Goulds Park, 11350 S.W. 216 Street, Miami, FL.

The former Washington Redskin and New York Giant, along with VH1's Joshua "Whiteboy" Gallander of I Love New York and I Love Money, will host the tournament. Pairing up on the gridiron to benefit local student athletes are Florida State University wide receiver Corey Surrency and University of Miami wide receiver Kayne Farquharson.

Team Impact Group, a non-profit organization that assists in the development of under-privileged youth, provided the guiding force behind Farquharson's and Surrency's college football careers. "The coaches at Team Impact Group gave me the support and encouragement I needed," said Surrency. "Team Impact was influential in getting me playing at the college level."

The tournament will be played in a four-on-four format, with teams of up to eight players in three divisions: Recreational, Competitive and Top Gun. College recruiters will be evaluating young talent with the prospect of offering athletic scholarships.

In addition to bragging rights, the Top Gun Division champions will receive one-of-a-kind collectible football memorabilia, custom-made team uniforms donated by Gamewear Team Sports, and a $1,000 grand prize. Tournament sponsors include LEAP Management LLC, Cash Dome, Inc., Integrity Sports, and South Florida Sports League, Inc. and Whiteboy Enterprises, Inc.

"I love giving back to my city," said tournament host and sponsor Gallander of Whiteboy Enterprises, Inc, an entertainment marketing and promotion company. "Miami is and always will be a major part of my life."

Team Impact Group, a Miami-based organization, builds a bridge to a valued future, unlocking the underprivileged youth's full potential in and out of the sports arena. The tournament proceeds will directly benefit the young men that participate in the Team Impact Football Camp.
